Fun Fact:

Because so much of my work is pretty intellectual, I spend my free time working with my hands: bread baking, music making, beekeeping, woodworking, gardening, and more!

After coaching I felt affirmed and supported in ways I haven't felt for a long time. I am so much more confident. Others have noticed it, too. Most importantly, I'm making a bigger impact.

I feel like I remember my "why" again. I was burned out and stressed. The challenges are still there, but now I know how to navigate through them in a way that is healthy for me and helpful for my school.
