

Lauren Jones

Masters of Arts in Special Education, Post Graduate Certificate in Leadership and Management from Harvard University

Specialty Areas:

- Serving Neurodivergent Students: Professional Development and training about Neurodiversity and how to meet the needs of all students
- Executive Functioning Training: Background of what executive functioning is and strategies to support students with developing it
- Special Education Audits: Comprehensive review of special education programming, systems, and structures driven by school goals
- Advancing STEM education through professional learning, including inquiry
- Leadership team strategic planning and visioning

Experience:

- Head of School/Director
- Student Services Coordinator
- Behavior Specialist
- Alternative Program Design
- Orton Gillingham Certified (for dyslexia support)

Philosophy of Consulting

As a consultant, my role is to facilitate and support the goals and vision of the team and school I collaborate with. I am deeply committed to understanding the unique culture and ethos of each school before beginning my work, allowing me to tailor my services to meet the specific needs and growth of the community.

Travel is my passion, and I've currently visited or lived in 45 countries.

I am a yoga and meditation instructor outside of my work in education.

Growing up, my dream was to be the first female Major League Baseball player. My mom obviously taught me to dream big!